1. Purpose

This is presented to the Board for:

- Decision

This paper relates to:

- NHS Board/Integration Joint Board Strategy or Direction

This aligns to the following NHS Scotland quality ambition(s):

- Person Centred

2. Report summary

2.1 Situation

Members of the NHS board are asked to

- Note that the name selected through a public and staff vote for the National Secure Adolescent Inpatient Service was “Foxgrove”
- Approve the name of “Foxgrove” for the National Secure Adolescent Inpatient Service (NSAIS) following the approval from members of the North Ayrshire IJB.

2.2 Background

A new 12 bedded National Secure Adolescent Inpatient Service facility for young people aged 12 to 18th birthday is proposed to be built on the grounds of Ayrshire Central Hospital, adjacent to Woodland View.

It will admit adolescents with a range of complex mental health difficulties and risk, which cannot be managed within other mental health services in Scotland.

Provision of a Scottish facility for vulnerable adolescents who require a secure inpatient services will result in the patients identified being cared for nearer to home in a facility that will provide appropriate care, treatment, therapies, security, and age appropriate on-going education.

It is hoped that the build of the facility will commence early spring 2021. A list of four possible names were shortlisted with the help of the projects Public Reference Group and Irvine Youth Forum. The proposed names focused on nature to reflect the building's surroundings.

The choices were:

- Aspen
- Carduus (pronounced "kar-do-us")
- Foxgrove
- Parkland View

A short online survey was circulated with particular interest to get the views of young people throughout Scotland. This was done with help from Young Scot to promote the survey to secondary school aged youngsters throughout Scotland.

The vote for the naming of the facility was closed on the 31st August 2020 and the name that received most votes was "Foxgrove".

The projects steering group and project board have approved the name "Foxgrove" and was submitted to the IJB seeking approval which this was approved on the 17th December.

2.3 Assessment

The name Foxgrove received the highest number of votes within the National survey. The naming of the National Secure Adolescent Inpatient Service facility demonstrates that from the public vote, the name with most votes was put forward to give the facility an appropriate name.

2.3.1 Quality/patient care

The public selected the name for the facility through a public vote.

2.3.2 Workforce

There are no known implications on the workforce. The name with most votes will give the facility an appropriate name.

2.3.3 Financial

The addition of the name on to the building has been accounted for within the capital budget for the facility.

2.3.4 Risk assessment/management

There are no known implications.

2.3.5 Equality and diversity, including health inequalities

There are no known equality or diversity implications.

2.3.6 Other impacts

It is important that the National Secure Adolescent Inpatient Service has a name which from the public vote Foxgrove received most votes.

2.3.7 Communication, involvement, engagement and consultation

A list of four possible names were shortlisted with the help of the NSAIS Public Reference Group and Irvine Youth Forum. The proposed names focused on nature to reflect the building's surroundings.

The choices were:

- Aspen
- Carduus (pronounced "kar-do-us")
- Foxgrove
- Parkland View

A short online survey was circulated nationally with particular interest to get the views of young people throughout Scotland. Young Scot and Members of the Youth Parliament supported the dissemination of the survey.

2.3.8 Route to the meeting

The naming of the facility was agreed at the NSAIS Steering Group on 22 September 2020 and project board on the 23 October 2020 prior to being approved at the North Ayrshire Integration Joint Board on 17 December 2020.

2.4 Recommendation

For decision. Board Members are asked to approve the name of "Foxgrove" for the NSAIS facility.
